Overview

An experienced litigator representing executives and professional individuals, companies, and municipalities, Dan Lampke is an associate with a wealth of experience in civil litigation and employment disputes, business litigation relating to closely held corporation shareholder disputes, municipal government advising, estate disputes, breach of fiduciary duty claims, contract disputes, landlord/tenant disputes, zoning appeals, and public records appeals.

Notable accomplishments include prevailing in arbitration against a major tech company and securing favorable settlements in various intricate cases against well-reputed firms. Dan's experience spans practicing before numerous administrative agencies and courts, highlighting his comprehensive understanding of the legal landscape.

Dan has contributed his expertise to the Town Counsel's Office of Hull and held internships at esteemed institutions, including the U.S. Bankruptcy Appellate Panel, the U.S. Department of Labor, the Massachusetts Attorney General's Office, and the City of Boston Law Department. After law school, Dan launched a law firm with his father, Jim Lampke (of counsel), who is well-known in the municipal legal community.

A graduate of New England Law | Boston, Dan excelled academically, ranking 9th in his class and earning the notable distinction of cum laude honors. His time in law school was marked by impressive achievements, including multiple New England Scholar and CALI Excellence for the Future Awards and serving as an Associate Editor for the Law Review.

Dan has professional experience in sales and real estate outside the legal realm, is proficient in Hebrew, and has passed the Israeli real estate broker license exam.

Dan has updated chapters for the Massachusetts Practice Series and has shared his insights on discrimination law as a speaker for the Boston Bar Association.

At Bernkopf, Dan continues his commitment to outstanding legal service, bringing a blend of passion, expertise, and dedication.
